

JUDGE CRISP

TO BE GIVEN A TORCHLIGHT DEMONSTRATION IN AMERICA.

The Citizens Organizing a Grand Demonstration in Honor of the Democratic Victory and of Judge Crisp.

AMERICA, Ga., November 7.—[Special.]—The young democracy of America met at the courthouse this afternoon, and organized to give a big demonstration on Monday night in honor of the democratic victory, and give everybody a chance to see and hear Judge Crisp.

TO GET UP THE LIGHT.

A committee of fifteen, with Mayor Felder as chairman, was appointed to prepare for a torchlight procession, fireworks, brass band, transparencies and all other things necessary for a jubilee of such proportions as befitted the occasion, and will do honor to the statesman whose great work in congress and on the stump did so much to bring about the result. All the surrounding country will be invited to come and bring plenty of lighted torches; and special excursions are to be arranged so as to accommodate the crowds.

THE CENTRAL FIGURE.

Judge Crisp, of course, will be the central figure, and will address his constituents if the enthusiasm can be sufficiently bottled for him to be heard. The biggest demonstration ever seen in southwest Georgia may be expected on that occasion.

THE SPEAKERSHIP.

Judge Crisp received last night a telegram from the Chicago Times asking him to state whether he was a candidate for speaker. Judge Crisp replied briefly that he had as yet no announcement to make respecting his candidacy.

THE COMMITTEES APPOINTED.

The general committee, appointed at the public meeting this evening to get up the big democratic jubilee, met tonight and appointed numerous subcommittees to take charge of every detail of the affair. Colonel M. B. Council was elected grand marshal, with five lieutenants, to manage the affair. In a large common in the south of the city the fireworks will be displayed, and a speaker's stand erected, where the claus will gather, after having paraded the principal streets, to hear the distinguished speakers. Under instructions, the subcommittees issued the following invitation:

[To the Democracy of Georgia: On Monday evening, November 10th, the people of America, the home of Hon. Charles F. Crisp, assisted by their friends of Sumter and the adjoining counties, will celebrate in a fitting manner the glorious democratic victory which has just blessed the nation. Every preparation is being made to render this demonstration in every way worthy of the occasion, and the statesman whose magnificent work in congress has done so much to bring about the present victory. Mr. Crisp will make an address, as well as other distinguished gentlemen invited, Hon. Thomas Hardeman, Dugout, Georgia; Patrick, Hon. and Lionel C. Levy, Excursion trains will be run to suit the convenience of the crowds. Everybody is invited to come and unite with the people of Sumter in this celebration of an event which parallels in the history of political revolutions. America throws open the portals of her hospitality. Let all good democrats come and join the procession.

RACON MYTHS.

JOHN B. FELDNER, Committee of Invitation.

DEATH OF MRS. WARREN.

The Widow of Ex-Congressman Latt Warren.

AMERICA, Ga., November 7.—[Special.]—On yesterday, at the residence of Dr. L. Warren, in this city, died a distinguished and venerable lady at the age of ninety, Mrs. Jane Warren, widow of the late Judge L. Warren, congressman, Latt Warren.

She was the daughter of Louis Philippe de Sabau, a French soldier who accompanied Lafayette to America during the revolution, and afterwards settled in Georgia. She was the mother of Mrs. Mary A. Hardwick, of America, and of the late Judge L. P. D. Warren, of Albany, and leaves a large family of grand-children living in America, Albany, Macon and Guyton, Ga.

She and her husband settled in America fifty-four years ago, but afterwards lived in Albany.

Though a cripple for five years past, she retained her mental faculties up to a short time before her death.

She was interred in Albany today beside her husband and son.

THE PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD.

Rev. James Stacey, D.D., of Newnan, Elected Moderator.

AMERICA, Ga., November 7.—[Special.]—Upon the formal opening of the Presbyterian Synod, Rev. James Stacey, D.D., of Newnan, was elected moderator, and Rev. George C. Goethals, of Columbus, and M. W. Lowrey, clerk.

Among the prominent divines in attendance are three foreign missionaries, Dr. DuBois, D.D., and H. M. Houston, D.D., from China, and Rev. J. Rockwell Smith, of Brazil, also Rev. J. B. Shearer, D.D., president of Davidson College, N. C.

Dr. J. P. Plunkett, of Augusta, preached last night. Addresses are to follow by Dr. Shearer, of North Carolina, and Dr. Houston, of Memphis, Tenn., on education, and on home missions by Drs. Barnett and Strickler, of Atlanta, Dr. J. B. Mook and Professor W. E. Reynolds, of Milledgeville.

MILITARY AT THE UNIVERSITY.

The Sad Need of Proper Accommodations.

ATHENS, Ga., November 7.—[Special.]—The military feature of the university is now under good headway.

Colonel C. M. Snelling, the efficient commandant, has divided the students into two companies of about fifty each, and assigned officers to each. Captain Dudley Youngblood, of Atlanta, handles Company A, in the most excellent manner, while Captain Marion Hull, of Athens, does the same thing by Company B. There is splendid cooperation between the two companies, and it is to be expected that they will be a splendid physical exercise.

But there is a sad need of a line of proper accommodations for the companies, and one which should meet the attention of the state authorities at once.

The boys deserve new guns, and without them could do nothing in case of an emergency. The guns now in use are old army muskets, entirely too heavy for use in drilling, and absolutely useless as to work in case of a difficulty into which the Cadets might be ordered.

If the state has any guns which it could spare, the University Cadets should certainly get them.

THE STUDENTS REVEL.

And Light the College Bonfire in Honor of Democracy.

ATHENS, Ga., November 7.—[Special.]—The students of the University of Georgia are democratic to the core, and when the news spread yesterday that the democrats had made a clean sweep all over the union and were advancing steadily to supremacy in the nation, their joy got the best of them, and they made a raid on boxes, barrels and everything of an inflammable nature to be found around the center of Athens. A big pile was made and the torch applied. One hundred of the boys danced the war dance around the burning heap and gave the college yell with a zest that betokened democratic zeal that will last in years to come.

Celebrating the Victory.

LA GRANGE, Ga., November 7.—[Special.]—LaGrange had a grand celebration of the democratic victory last night. Mayor Pittman told the boys that could have all the fun they wanted without restraint. They secured the Light Guard's post, and a big lot of fireworks, and turned themselves loose. He is in jail.

FELTON IN EFFIGY.

A RUMOR WHICH GAINED CREDENCE IN CARTERSVILLE.

But Which, If True, was Finally Abandoned—Ginhouse Fire—A Preacher's Change of Location.

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., November 7.—[Special.]—For several hours last night Cartersville was in a high state of excitement, caused by a rumor that Dr. Felton was to be burned in effigy. The citizens were loud in expressing their indignation. They were thoroughly aroused, and if such an insult had been attempted the consequences would have been indeed serious. There are not a dozen men here that would not scorn the idea of such a thing.

Almost every person in town in Dr. Felton's warm personal friend, and they swore by the eternal that such disgraceful proceedings should not be tolerated.

Scores of men and boys congregated in different places, all prepared for any emergency. Fortunately, the scheme was abandoned, and at 11 o'clock nearly everybody had retired to their homes.

How and where the rumor started was difficult to find, but that such a thing was planned cannot be denied.

THE COUNTY OFFICERS.

Now that the congressional campaign is ended, interest in the ensuing election for county officers is considerably increased. The candidates who have announced themselves for office in the report for sheriff, For sheriff, W. W. Robert, the present incumbent, and M. Franklin; for tax collector, W. W. Ginn, J. L. Vaughn and Joseph Shaw; for county treasurer, H. W. Cobb, the present incumbent, and James M. Smith; for surveyor, C. W. Jones and Royal Smith; for tax receiver, Albert Smith.

F. M. Durham, the present efficient clerk of the court, is a candidate for re-election without opposition.

Nearly every candidate is a member of the alliance, and of the interest centers in the race for sheriff.

A CHANGE OF LOCATION.

Rev. W. H. Cooper, who recently resigned the pastorate of the Baptist church, at this place, and accepted a call to the Dalton church, was in town several days this week closing up his private matters.

Dr. Cooper served the Baptist church here for seven years, with fine ability and much success, and was beloved by the entire people, irrespective of denomination. He was very popular with the young people, and accomplished much good in his class, well-fitting and the children's Sunday meetings, which are held every Sunday afternoon, which has grown in popularity until they have become almost indispensable to the Sunday morning service.

As a zealous, earnest, effective Christian worker, Dr. Cooper is a power in any community, and he will be greatly missed by our people.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The members of the Cartersville fire department met last night and elected the following officers for the next year: M. Graham, chief; J. H. Howard, assistant chief; Tom M. Walker, secretary.

No town in the state of the size of Cartersville has a more efficient fire department.

Mr. Graham is a well-known and well-served in the same capacity when the organization first started, about a year ago. Several months since he resigned on account of his absence from the city, and Mr. John Akin filled the unexpired term.

Mr. Graham the people of Cartersville are largely indebted for their splendid protection against fire, and it is well-fitting and deserved compliment that he should have been re-elected chief.

A GINHOUSE FIRE.

Today about noon, the ginhouse and gin belonging to John J. Howard, and situated a quarter of a mile out of town, was burned down, together with thirteen bales of cotton and about fourteen hundred bushels of cotton seed.

The property was rented for this season by Mr. W. W. Ginn, and the loss falls heavily on him. The origin of the fire is unknown, though it is thought to have been caused by a man who had been in the gin.

There was no insurance on anything.

At Dr. Felton's Last Night.

A comedy could scarcely be more lighted with farcical situations, more building over with under-estimated fun, than the play of "Miss Manning," as rendered last evening by Elsie Ellier and her excellent troupe.

Miss Ellier, extracted from the personage of the heaviest, Maggie Manning, such an abundance of wit, satire, of dry and pungent humor and adroit scheming, that the audience applauded every scene, and the troupe was a success.

Her role with unusual discretion, and her impersonations gave a most decided vraisemblance to the part, and the audience was a long list of suitors—winning at last her beloved.

Miss Ellier added to her favor several encores which greeted her songs. Her vocal talent was heartily enjoyed and succeeded in capturing the house.

Mr. Clifford Dempsey filled the role of the lover with choice dialogue, and his performance on the stage is that of a thoroughly equipped actor and is highly commendable.

Miss Ellier, in her part, played a fevered, ill, sneezed himself into favor, while John Ellier, in his part, played a fevered, ill, sneezed himself into favor, while John Ellier, in his part, played a fevered, ill, sneezed himself into favor.

The Messrs. Lestima, Taylor, Holland and Wheeler were all in the best of trim, and executed their parts in a manner which gave decided life to the play, and completed an excellent ensemble.

Miss Loula Porter transformed herself into the old maid, Belinda, a woman who never opens her mouth without uttering a string of quotations from the Bible, and her performance was a success.

This good actor will play one matinee and one night in "Hermine" next Monday. The following extracts from the London papers will show how he is appreciated in England:

"William Redmond is an actor of such intelligence and force, and his performance is so good, that it is one of the very best comedies on the American stage is a fact beyond denial."

"Miss Ellier will appear in 'The Governors' at the matinee this afternoon and tonight in 'Miss Manning.'"

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

THAT AMENDMENT.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL SAYS IT WAS NOT ADOPTED.

But Last Because It Was Not Properly Advertised—The Proclamation Will Say So.

The amendment was lost.

The attorney general says so.

Bills will be read in full by the legislature on their first reading; as prescribed in the constitution.

Colonel Anderson arrived in the city yesterday, and his official decision, as the legal adviser of the governor, was given formally.

It was against the amendment.

And the matter is settled.

The attorney general's opinion is to be incorporated in the proclamation, issued by the governor, declaring that the amendment failed of adoption.

The constitution's discovery of the irregularity in the matter, and its promptness in pointing out the danger of a further blunder, has prevented serious consequences.

The failure to comply with the law was known in the executive department, it seems, before the proclamation was upon the point of being issued.

It has been demonstrated that the people want the amendment; and that it's adoption is a matter of time.

A bill will be introduced at once, looking to another vote on the proposed amendment.

MURDER AT THE JAIL.

Bill Williams Dies Yesterday Morning from a Stab.

Murder at the jail.

Bill Williams, the negro who was stabbed by Howey Wyatt at the jail several days ago, is dead.

He died yesterday morning.

An inquest was held by the coroner yesterday. The verdict rendered was that Williams came to his death from a stab at the hands of Wyatt, and that it was murder.

The circumstances of the fight at the jail have been made known by THE CONSTITUTION.

Last Monday Williams and Wyatt became engaged in a quarrel over some hot water that had been given the prisoners, who were held in the hall.

Wyatt disengaged himself from the struggle and running up stairs got a pocket knife from one of the other prisoners up there.

Running back down stairs again, he stabbed Williams in the abdomen.

It was a vicious blow, and from the first the county physician had little hope of the wounded negro's recovery.

He was never removed from the jail to the hospital, so critical was his condition.

When Williams died, yesterday the coroner was notified, and as stated, an inquest was held.

Williams and Wyatt were both in jail awaiting trial on misdemeanor charges.

Wyatt will now have to answer to a charge of murder.

How the knife with which the stabbing was done got into the jail is a mystery.

The jailer says they have always thoroughly searched every prisoner, and they are very much at a loss to account for the presence of the knife in the jail.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

Will Hold a Meeting This Evening—Addresses Will Be Made by Southern Heroes.

The confederate veterans will hold a grand reunion this evening in the hall of the Fulton county Veterans' Association, No. 25 South road street.

A number of old veterans will make speeches, and every confederate soldier in the city is invited to attend.

The "Bonnie Blue Flag," all tattered and worn, but without a dissonant stain, will be hung above the speakers' rostrum in full view of the audience. It will inspire them and set them thinking of the stirring times when it was borne aloft to victory or defeat, by honest men who were fighting for their homes and their principles.

A full attendance of all the old "vets" is looked for.

FROM OUR NOTEBOOKS.

Among His Friends.—Mr. James Bishop, of Eastman, came to see how the new legislature would start off. Mr. Bishop is a native Georgian, and one of the best lawyers in south Georgia. He has been urged to make the race for the judgeship of his circuit.

Christian Endeavor.—The society of Christian Endeavor held a largely attended meeting at Grace church last evening. There were quite a number of workers present and the meeting was most satisfactory. The members enjoyed the meeting exceedingly, and the society is in a most flourishing condition.

New Books at the Library.—A large and attractive lot of books just received at the library, and are now ready to be issued. This is the largest purchase made in some time, and will doubtless attract many new members to the library. A list in full of the books will be published later.

Week of Prayer.—The week of prayer for young men at the Young Men's Christian Association will be observed this week in a series of special meetings held every evening in their hall, beginning at 8 o'clock and continuing for one hour only. The meetings will be conducted by Rev. Hugh Walker, of Marietta, Ga. The singing will be made especially attractive. Every young man in Atlanta is invited, and the members are requested to call and assist in these special services. At 4 o'clock every afternoon the Ladies' Auxiliary will hold a special meeting for prayer, lasting a half hour only.

Every lady in Atlanta is cordially invited to attend these special services.

Authors' Club.—The Authors' Club met at St. Phillips rectory last evening. The programme was as follows:

Instrumental duet by Misses Maggie Hahn and Louise Romano.

The short story of the evening was written and read by Mrs. Lola Wyle.

Miss Ella Powell rendered a delightful solo.

The second half of short story written and read by Miss Irene Farrar.

Instrumental solo by Miss Louise Romano.

The society then had a business meeting. Miss Louise Beck was elected assistant secretary.

There were something over ninety persons present, and the evening was one of great pleasure to all present.

The next meeting will be held Friday two weeks.

The author of the next meeting will be Mr. George McDonald.

Miss Leonard Beck will read one of her beautiful essays.

Miss Emma Hahn will furnish music for the evening.

An Important and Growing Enterprise.

Perhaps our readers may recall the announcement made in these columns some months ago, that the American Book Company were to be represented in the south by Van Hook, Nash & Co. of Atlanta.

The impression prevailed at the time that a combination of publishers had established a trust, and the result would be higher prices for school books.

It appears, however, that the reverse is the case, and that the company has not only reduced the prices of some of their books, but have given larger discounts to dealers everywhere.

It is an especially good thing for our people that Messrs. Nash & Co. are the proprietors of this interest, for both gentlemen are southerners by birth and are thoroughly acquainted with the needs of our school book-buying population, and are liberal in sentiment, and directly sympathetic with the educational movement and demands of our section.

Carrying an immense stock of books, Messrs. Nash & Co. are shipping to all sections of the south, and are fair to found one of the largest concerns ever established in our SOCIETY GOSSIP.

Mrs. Hugh Porter, who has been quite ill for some time, leaves this morning for Montezuma, Ga., where she goes to visit her sister, Mrs. J. E. DeVaughn. Her many friends hope to soon hear of her rapid improvement.

Miss Lula Porter was called upon by a great many of her friends at the Kimball yesterday at 10 o'clock, a. m., who were delighted to see her after so long an absence. Since she began her career on the stage she has gained an enviable position.

On Wednesday evening, November 10th, at the Methodist church at Waynesboro, Ga., occurs the wedding of Mr. Judson McMurray and Miss Haidee Eloise Routzahn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Whitehead of that town.

Mr. McMurray is also a resident of Waynesboro, but both he and his future wife are well known in Atlanta. Miss Whitehead spent several weeks in Atlanta last winter and by her many accomplishments and good qualities endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. Her future husband is one of the best known young lawyers in the state.

A very pleasant evening party occurred Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. Zach Dobbs. The following programme was rendered in a very entertaining manner:

Vocal solo, Miss Mary Jordan; Instrumental solo, Mrs. Rogers; instrumental solo, Miss Grosse; recitation, Marguerite Whitesides; Old Woman's Glee club—trio, Misses Bradbury and Green and Mrs. John M. Green; violin, bones and beat and piano, banjo and guitar—Professors Carlisle and Messrs. Chapman and Haynes; recitation, Miss Florence Green.

The various numbers were heartily received and a very enjoyable evening was spent by all.

MARIETTA, Ga., November 7.—[Special.]—Captain R. W. Boone, president First National bank of this place, tendered to the young people of the city a most delightful theater party at Leslie's opera house, Atlanta, last evening. The party consisted of thirty-eight of Marietta's society people. The party arrived in Atlanta at 6:30 by special car and took supper at the Marlborough. Those composing the party were, Captain R. W. Boone with Miss Alice Trammell, W. L. Sessions with Miss Sallie Camp, J. M. Dobbs with Miss Mary Strong, J. G. Coryell with Miss George Northcutt, Mayor T. W. Glover with Miss Willie Montgomery, R. H. Greer with Miss Mary Fryer, J. P. Dobbs with Miss Jessie Reynolds, J. F. Brantley with Miss Addie Winters, G. S. Burman with Miss Addie Seize, B. K. Cooper with Miss Mollie Seize, J. P. Legg with Miss Lillie Winn, R. L. Northcutt with Miss Leize Glover, R. O. Campbell with Miss Lucy Foreman, W. Higgins with Miss Julia Howell, Wallace Butolph with Miss Manie Garrett, Jim Lacey with Miss Anne Towers, H. J. Scheen, that with Miss Annie Davis, E. H. Meyers with Mrs. Kate Thompson.

The evening was a delightful one and the play highly enjoyed.

ATLANTA, Ga., November 7.—[Special.]—Miss Emma Bell, one of Athens' most cultured and refined ladies, gave a most enjoyable entertainment last evening at her home on Hill street, complimentary to Miss Katie Black, the accomplished daughter of Hon. J. C. Black, of Augusta.

The evening was spent most pleasantly and the present carried away lasting and fragrant memories of the occasion.

Tuesday evening Miss Maude Talmadge tendered a delightful entertainment to a select circle of her friends at her lovely home at Millidge avenue.

Among those present were Misses Maude and Maggie Talmadge, Katie Dorsey, Susie Lucas and Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Morton. The gentlemen present were Messrs. Tom Burke, J. W. Barnett, Henry Grady, Carl Howell and Mr. Neely.

Miss Blanche Lipscomb will attend the nuptials of Miss Blanche Tarwater, in Thomasville, before returning home.

Miss Emma Jordon, of Savannah, will accompany Miss Daisy Talmadge when she returns home from a visit to Miss Clio Smith, of Atlanta.

Mrs. James Reeves has returned home after a visit to Bishop.

Hon. H. H. Carlton and family will return to Washington, D. C., in a few days. Mr. Carlton's business demands his stay at the national capital.

Messrs. H. C. Tuck and E. M. Hughes and Professor H. C. White have returned from a flying visit to Atlanta.

Miss Emma Jordon, one of Madison's charming daughters, after a pleasant visit in this city, has returned home.

Miss Wessie Turner, of Turin, Ga., is visiting her cousin, Miss Mattie Hinnant, of this city.

Mr. W. L. Smith, of Atlanta, is expected soon on a visit to his mother, Mrs. A. H. Noble, of this city.

WEST POINT, Ga., November 7.—[Special.]—Mr. Frank Lanier, Jr., and bride, whose brilliant marriage was chronicled in the society events of THE CONSTITUTION Wednesday, reached the city yesterday. They were tendered an elegant reception at the home of their uncle, Mr. Frank Lanier, Sr. Last night Mr. Lanier was formerly a citizen of this place and was prominent in social and business circles, and numbers his friends by the score. His bride, Miss Hollis is one of America's fairest daughters, lovely and accomplished. Friends of friends join your correspondent in best wishes and a smooth sail on the matrimonial sea.

Miss Alice Stephens, an accomplished and fascinating young lady, of Auburn, Ala., is the guest of Mrs. M. J. Adams.

Mr. Phil Lanier has been in America this week attending the marriage of Mr. Frank Lanier, Jr. Mr. C. W. Martin, of St. Louis, has been in the city several days. Mr. Martin is a genial and accomplished gentleman, and has made hosts of friends during his stay. He is largely interested in cotton manufacturing in the south.

Miss Lida Scott is visiting friends in Montgomery.

Miss Mary Lou Williams, who has for several days past been the guest of the Misses Freeman, returned to her home in Woodbury yesterday, to the regret of many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Barker, formerly of our city, now of Rising Lawn, Ga., visited relatives here last week. They have a host of friends here who always extend them a cordial welcome.

Mrs. L. M. Hookhart is visiting friends in Atlanta and Newnan.

Misses Thompson and Hammond, two of Atlanta's well known society ladies, are visiting the Misses Ormes, at their beautiful country home.

MCCULLOUGH GIVES BOND.

The warrants in Clayton County Dismissed and Sworn Out in Fulton.

J. R. McCullough, an account of whose arrest appeared yesterday's "Constitution," was released yesterday upon $5,000 bond on one charge and $500 bond on the misdemeanor case.

Two warrants had been out against McCullough in Clayton county, one for embezzlement and the other for carrying a pistol.

Mr. McCullough was taken to Jonesboro, Thursday, to give bond on these charges. It was stated yesterday that he could not give bond and was brought back to Atlanta and placed in jail.

Captain W. T. Kinney, clerk of the superior court of Clayton county, was in Atlanta yesterday. He says he was present when Mr. McCullough offered to give bond, but that according to a misunderstanding he was not accepted by the attorneys for the prosecution.

Yesterday the two warrants sworn out on Clayton county, were withdrawn and a warrant charging Mr. McCullough with larceny after trust for carrying concealed weapons were sworn out in this county. Justice King assessed bond as stated above, and Mr. McCullough gave it readily.

The preliminary trial is set for next Wednesday at 3 o'clock, before Judge King.

Mr. McCullough has employed Messrs. Dorsey & Howell and Hutchinson & Key, to represent him.

WARREN REPUDIATES GORDON.

The County Reconsiders Its Opinion of the General.

WARRENTON, Ga., November 7.—[Special.]—At a recent democratic primary, held throughout Warren county, Governor Gordon was defeated for United States senator by a vote of nearly two to one. Inasmuch as this county gave Gordon a majority over Bacon for governor, and was at that time regarded by THE CONSTITUTION as the "turning of the tide" that swept him into the gubernatorial chair over Mr. Bacon, it demonstrates the great change that has come over the people. Our representative is individually a Gordon man, but will now oppose him.

ATLANTA'S PRINTERS

SPEND A PLEASANT EVENING AT THE Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

Two Hundred and Seventy-Five Printers Are Entertained at the Young Men's Christian Association.

A jolly good time!

That's what the printers had at the Young Men's Christian Association last evening.

This entertainment has been for some time planned by the ladies of the association, the "auxiliary committee" especially, and these ladies, Mrs. W. A. Hemphill, Mrs. Ed. White, Mrs. E. P. Chamberlin, Mrs. J. M. Wiley, Mrs. J. H. Morgan, Mrs. John H. James, Mrs. Tuller, Mrs. Ackerman, Miss Libbie Tuller, Miss L. L. Tuller and Mrs. R. H. Richards provided a most excellent programme for the entertainment of the hard-working members of the press, whose labors are generally so little understood and appreciated.

THE OPENING ADDRESS.

Captain E. S. Gay delivered the opening address, and his speech was just such an eloquent and enthusiastic address as would appeal to the hearts of an audience of appreciative workmen.

Mr. Joseph Carter followed in a neat and tasteful address to the printers, in which he set forth the merits of this great body of workers, and commended them to the public generally, because of their true and faithful service rendered in every emergency.

MR. HEMPHILL SPEAKS.

In response to repeated calls, Hon. W. A. Hemphill arose and made a short speech, full of pathos and pathos. In the course of his remarks he alluded to the time when "Uncle Ike" Pilgrim got out the first copy of THE CONSTITUTION, twenty-two years ago, and since that time he and "Uncle Ike" had worked in the harness together, and that there had never been a cross word or an unkind thought between them.

He went on to tell of the days when negroes turned THE CONSTITUTION press, and it took some time to get the first copy of the paper.

He compared that period with the present, when THE CONSTITUTION has two fast presses.

But he felt prouder of one thing than all else, and that was the fact that the printers in THE CONSTITUTION office were ready to stand by him in his candidacy for the mayoralty of the city.

If there was a single enemy of the office against him he was not aware of it, and whether elected or defeated he would always feel grateful to these men who show their faith in him by their work in his behalf.

For some time he had been thinking of what he could do for the printers. He had at last decided that, as the Grady hospital is being built, he would set aside for the members of the craft, where sick printers can always be given proper care.

AN ENDOWMENT.

"In conclusion," continued Mr. Hemphill, "I want you to ward the one being I love better than any one else on earth to preside. As an endowment of that ward, I will contribute $1,000."

The address of the distinguished speaker was given time to time interrupted by loud applause, and at the conclusion, the assemblage fairly raised the roof in enthusiastic acclamations.

There were fitting responses from Mr. M. M. Hill and Mr. Joseph Diehl, in behalf of the fraternity, and both addresses were worthy of the men who delivered them, and the speakers were greeted with round after round of applause.

Mr. Alex W. Bealer delivered a very timely speech in a few well chosen remarks.

GIVEN REASONS FOR OUR RECOGNITION.

Among the other enjoyable features of the programme were two recitations by Miss Mamie Johnson, which were very much enjoyed by all present.

Miss Caro Heidt tendered a vocal solo which was very beautiful, and the young singer was greeted by loud applause.

Miss Mabel Haynes was another singer, and her sweet voice added its melody to the occasion.

Then there was music by the band which was greatly enjoyed, and after all was over the guests were invited to partake of refreshments prepared by the hands of the fair ladies of the auxiliary, and no daintier repast has ever been more heartily enjoyed than that spread of choice viands which the printers were invited.

It was a jolly good time. And everybody enjoyed it.

SOME RESOLUTIONS.

To show how the printers appreciated the entertainment, the following resolutions are appended which express the sentiments of the 275 men who participated in the festivities of the occasion:

Whereas, having been tendered an elegant reception by the Young Men's Christian Association and duly appreciating the efforts of the officers and members of the association, and particularly the Ladies' Auxiliary, in making the occasion one of real enjoyment, we do most heartily

Resolved, that the entire printing fraternity of the city return their grateful acknowledgments for an evening of rare entertainment and instructive association in brief speeches.

Resolved, that we believe a membership in the Young Men's Christian Association is productive of much good to the individual, and that the impression was made by the array of advantages offered, as presented by the officers and members of the association, we do hereby

Resolved, that now fully understanding the workings of the association, we do endorse the association as a resort for intellectual, moral and physical development of young men of whatever profession, trade or guild.

To Let All Vote.

It was currently rumored last night that friends of the three candidates for mayor had requested Mr. Carter to call the executive committee together and have the rules laid down for the ward meetings amended.

The amendment desired will do away with the congressional registration by which the voting in the ward meetings is to be governed and allow all qualified city voters, whether on that congressional list or not, to vote.

Bishop Beckwith's Convalescent.—Bishop Beckwith is now entirely convalescent, and his physician, Dr. H. F. Cooper, feels confident that he will soon be completely restored to his usual good health.

Friends of the distinguished minister all over the country will be delighted to hear that he is in a fair way to recovery after his painful illness.

USE POND'S EXTRACT FOR PILES

WHAT THE DOCTOR SAYS: A PROMINENT NEW YORK PHYSICIAN SAYS:

"There is nothing better to relieve the PAIN and ITCHING, and CAUSE RETRACTION OF PILES, than POND'S EXTRACT OINTMENT. Either the fluid or the ointment has the stringent and soothing effect required, and is a very useful preparation. In fact for this purpose they are best used together."

WHAT THE PATIENT SAYS:

"For 40 years I have been an inextinguishable sufferer with the PILES. Every known remedy I have tried, all of which had a tendency to alleviate, but none cured. First attacked with BLIND PILES, which annoyed me for years; BLEEDING PILES followed, which frequently confined me to the bed, leaving me unfit for business. Within a few days they have attacked me in full force, and that most excruciating of the hemorrhoidal family, the ITCHING PILES, superadded both. Having become positively insane, I was finally induced, by magic, I am fully convinced that it is the only known remedy in the wide world for the ITCHING PILES. My statement is uncolored."—THOMAS S. MURPHY, Olmstedville, N. Y.

THE LEGISLATURE.

BOTH HOUSES GET DOWN TO WORK YESTERDAY.

The Brady Bill again—An Economical Resolution, Railway Commission, Temperance and Code Amendments.

The mill of the gods is grinding. Yesterday was a day of steady work—making allowance for the traditional dignity of the senate—in both houses of the general assembly.

The constitutional amendment in reference to the pensioning of widows of Confederate soldiers was taken up, and a bill to carry its effect into effect was introduced simultaneously in both the house and senate.

It is fathered in the house by Colonel J. T. Crowder, of Monroe, the oldest ex-Confederate in the legislature; and in the upper house by Hon. Richard Johnson, of the twenty-first, the youngest ex-Confederate in the general assembly.

Mr. Humphries, of Brooks, introduced a bill of similar import in the house.

The Brady bill came up under another name; introduced this time by Mr. Campbell, of Meriwether, who succeeds Mr. Snelson in the house.

Three or three bills concerning the railroad interests or extending the powers of the railroad commission were introduced; as many more of a general character to protect employees in their labor contracts; and a large number of local bills were read the first time.

The ballot reform law, a synopsis of which has already appeared in The Constitution, was introduced by Hon. Price Gilbert, of Muscogee.

Hill, of Meriwether, Snelson's colleague in the last house, introduced an amendment to the constitution, giving practical shape to the economic reform sentiment of Mr. Snelson.

It is a hit at the long sessions, providing that no session of the members shall exceed 150—going back to the "forty-day session" contemplated in the constitution.

Senator Joe Terrell introduced a bill in the senate to make the common school term six months.

The second reading mark was reached yesterday by the senate, too—that of a local bill introduced by Senator Harp, of the twenty-fourth.

In the Senate.

A bill was introduced by Senator Golden of the thirty-eighth, to create and organize a new judicial circuit of the superior courts of the state.

This is to be known as the Tallapoosa circuit.

It will include the counties of Polk, Paulding and Haralson.

All petitions, motions, mesne, or final processes, summons, and other proceedings issued and returnable or pending in the several counties in the circuit, to which they belonged before the passage of this act, will relate to and hold good in the courts of the new circuit.

The bill contemplates the immediate formation of the circuit, the judge and the solicitor to be elected by this legislature.

The judge will hold until '94; the solicitor until '92.

FOR A SIX MONTHS' SCHOOL TERM.

Another very important bill was introduced by Senator Joe Terrell, of the thirty-sixth. It calls for a six months' common school term, and makes other very material changes in the present school system.

The provisions of the act are to become separate in 1902.

Aside from the importance of the bill, it has a peculiar interest from the fact that it has Snelson in his race for the senate against Terrell.

That bill did it.

It was the most serious factor in that memorable fight.

The term is to be six months or 120 school days, or for such time as the school fund will warrant, the county boards having authority to say during what months the schools shall be taught.

A provision is incorporated that under no circumstances shall white and colored children be taught in the same school.

The state board of education is to consist of three members—the governor, as ex-officio president, the attorney general and the state school commissioner. Appeal may always be taken from the state school commissioner—who is chief executive officer of the board—to the board itself.

It shall be the duty of the state school commissioner to apportion the fund as herebefore; and when any county school commissioner shall give official notice that the schools in his county are within one month of closing, the state school commissioner shall execute an order upon the tax collector of each county in favor of the county school commissioner for that county's quota of the common school fund, and transmit the order to the county school commissioner. The state school commissioner shall send notice of the apportionment to the tax collector of each county as soon as the apportionment is made, and it shall be the duty of the first tax collector to retain-out of the first tax collected—a sufficient amount to pay the sum mentioned as the quota of that county, and shall pay the same to the county school commissioner upon presentation of the order of the state school commissioner. The treasurer shall receive this check as cash in settling with the tax collector.

Nothing contained in the bill, it is provided, shall be construed to prevent any county school commissioner from advancing any amount, not exceeding the amount due—estimated upon the basis of the preceding year—to teachers of the common schools in that county after said schools have been in operation three months.

The county board of education in each county is to consist of five freeholders, elected by the grand jury for a term of four years.

The board in turn selects a secretary, who is ex-officio the county school commissioner. His term also is four years. No one teacher shall teach less than two months, unless otherwise ordered by the county board of education.

A PROHIBITION BILL.

Another important bill is one introduced by Senator Todd, of the Atlanta district.

The paper is in the handwriting of Colonel Aaron Murphy, of Atlanta.

It is better known over the state perhaps as one of the principal factors in establishing the "dispensary plan" in Barnesville.

The object, it seems, is to establish that plan, or something like it, generally over the state.

The bill provides that "it shall not be lawful for any state, county or municipal authority in this state shall grant under existing laws licenses to sell any intoxicating liquors in quantities more than a quart, it shall not be lawful for any person selling the same to allow said intoxicating liquors to be drunk on or near the premises where sold."

Violation of the act is to be a misdemeanor, and to be punished as provided in section 4310 of the code.

NEW SENATE BILL.

Johnson, of the twenty-first.—To allow a pension of $10 a year to the widows of Confederate soldiers, on certain conditions.

of the code by striking out the words "within six months," and inserting the words "within twenty days thereafter."

Golden, of the thirty-eighth.—To create and organize a new judicial circuit of the superior courts of the state.

Todd, of the thirty-fifth.—To prohibit the licensing and selling intoxicating liquors in Georgia in less quantities than a quart, and to regulate sale of same in quantities more than a quart, and to provide a penalty, and for other purposes.

Johnson, of the twenty-first.—To amend section 4310 of the code by substituting the word "ten" in the tenth line and inserting in lieu thereof the word "thirty."

Heck, of the twenty-sixth.—To amend subdivision E and repeal subdivision G of the first section of the act approved October 26, 1889, on the subject of the competency of witnesses in this state.

In the House.

Forty-eight bills were rushed in on first reading in the house yesterday.

Which further settles the fact that the representatives are not here for play or pleasant pastime.

Many of the bills were very important in their provisions, too, being general in their scope. Of course, there were many local bills filed also which only affect the town or county from which the author comes.

But, as a rule, the bills were weighty, well shaped and of general interest, and many were the remarks made by those who had watched the proceedings from this gallery.

The speaker called the house to order at 10 o'clock and Rev. Mr. Underwood, of Franklin county, opened the morning session with prayer.

Then came the roll call, and every member responded to his name with a promptness that is in keeping with the lively air of interest that prevails this term.

The journal of the day before was read and stood approved, there being no corrections being made.

Clerk Hardin announced the committee appointed by the speaker to wait upon the governor-elect and notify him of his election as follows:

Martin, of Fulton; Boileau, of Bibb; Turner, of Floyd; Holbrook and Branch.

On motion the house took up the senate's resolution reported in the message the day before:

Resolved, That a committee, consisting of two from the senate and three from the house, be appointed to see what public officers are to be elected by this legislature.

The resolution was adopted and Messrs. Bush, Hogan and Traynor were appointed on a committee to meet the committee from the senate.

Mr. Calvin offered the following important resolution:

Resolved, That the rules of this house shall require that no senate amendment to a house bill shall be declared concurred in unless the same shall receive the majority of the votes of the members elected to each house of the general assembly, and the votes in favor of said amendment shall, in every instance, appear on the journal.

Then came the bills.

And they came from every side of the house.

The clerk called the roll of counties, and the bills poured in with rapid succession to be read for the first time.

The following is a list of the measures put on first reading:

Jackson, of Heard.—An act to amend the railroad commission's powers of the state, allowing and requiring the board to investigate all through freight rates to points in and out of Georgia and level them according to just basis.

Davis, of Burke.—A bill to incorporate the Bank of Waynesboro, with a capital stock of $100,000.

Tatum, of Dade.—A bill to repeal an act entitled "An act to require any corporation or person doing business in this state, to redeem in cash any checks, script or other negotiable evidence of indebtedness for the wages of laborers," approved December 26, 1888, and for other purposes.

Hartbridge, of Chatham.—An act to incorporate the Suburban and West End Railway Company, to define its rights, powers and privileges.

THE "UNARY" BILL.

An important measure was introduced by Mr. Campbell, of Meriwether, and it has a familiar look. It is:

An act to provide for pleading and proving a failure of consideration in any promissory note, or other instrument in writing given for commercial fertilizers, guano or other manures, and to prescribe a penalty for failing to state the consideration in the face of any negotiable promissory note, on any other negotiable instrument given for the same.

TO PAY THEM LESS.

Mr. Hill, of Meriwether, also introduced a bill that is going to raise a lively discussion when it comes up again.

He proposes to amend article 3, section 9, paragraph 1 of the constitution of 1877, so as to pay each member of the general assembly a salary of $100 each year, and not a per diem salary.

It also provides that no more than 10 per cent per mile for each mile traveled be allowed the members for their mileage to and from their homes, and stipulates that the nearest way home shall be the route upon which the estimate shall be made.

To the president of the senate and the speaker of the house the bill allows a fixed salary of $280. It further provides that the measure shall only be passed by a two-thirds vote of the house and senate.

REPEAL OF CHATHAM.

Major Ryals, of Chatham, introduced what will prove an interesting and important bill before it is finished with in the house. It is an act to make all railroads in Georgia subject to municipal taxation. The bill will bring up some lively discussion when it comes up again.

Major Ryals laid several other bills before the house, among which were the following:

An act to provide an additional penalty for the violation of law by the vendors of intoxicating liquors.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide when transfers and liens shall take effect as against third parties," approved April 24, 1889, so as to provide that it shall not apply to mechanics, contractors' material, men and manufacturers.

An act to incorporate the Vernon Park Railway Company, of Savannah.

Another important measure now brought up by Mr. Ryals, was an act to amend section 478 of the code of Georgia, which relates to the running of freight trains by railroads on the Sabbath day, so as to add thereto a prohibition touching excursion trains and other than the regular trains run for carrying of the mail or passengers.

to meet the committee from the senate at once for the performance of their mission.

Mr. Atkinson, of Coweta, introduced a bill to extend the powers of the railroad commissioners so as to give them power and authority to regulate changes of express, sleeping cars and telegraph companies for service rendered within this state, and make the penalties prescribed apply to the companies and persons heretofore named and for other purposes. This bill gives many detailed privileges to the railroad commission that it has not enjoyed heretofore.

OTHER BILLS.

Mr. Clifton, of Chatham, introduced a bill to incorporate the Savannah Savings Bank and Mortgage Company.

Martin, of Fulton, moved that the resolution of the senate providing for the election of officers on Monday next be taken up, and it was read and unanimously adopted.

Mr. Atkinson, of Coweta.—A bill to amend the laws relating to the compensation of justices of the peace by providing for the appointment of inspectors of jails, prescribing the measure and amount of compensation, revising the schedule of fees now prescribed by law for the inspection of jails, providing for the disposition of fees and for other purposes.

Mr. Roberts, of Douglas.—An act to provide for taking of testimony in criminal cases by interrogatories when the witnesses are out of the state.

Mr. Smith, of DeKalb, put in a bill designed to benefit the farmers by providing for the sale of land in small lots.

It is an act to make penal the non-compliance of laborers or others with their contracts where adhesion has been made to the same, and to require payment for the same in labor or other service.

Mr. May, of Floyd.—A bill to amend the charter of East Rome.

Also a bill to relieve the Rome Street Railroad Company from the penalty provided by the act of September 17, 1889.

Mr. Goodwin, of Fulton.—An act to amend "An act to provide that no railroad or other corporation, state or county, or any other corporation, shall be liable for damages caused by the streets or sewers of said municipal corporations, or otherwise, shall bear interest at the legal rate from the time fixed by law for making the same, and for other purposes."

Mr. Goodwin's amendment requires that the act shall apply to all municipal corporations having at the date of the approval of said act a population of 60,000 or more.

Fulton.—An act to provide for the admission in evidence of certified exemplifications of the records and minutes of municipal corporations, and to provide that no railroad or other corporation shall be liable for damages caused by the streets or sewers of said municipal corporations, or otherwise, shall bear interest at the legal rate from the time fixed by law for making the same, and for other purposes.

Mr. Howell, of Fulton.—An act incorporating the Mechanics' and Trades' Association of the city of Atlanta, and to provide for the same.

Mr. Smith, of Greene.—A bill to be entitled "An act to regulate and define liabilities of a person illegally employing the services of another, as laborer, cropper, or tenant of another."

Mr. Merritt, of Hall.—A bill to incorporate the Atlantic and North-western Railroad Company, and to confer on said company certain powers and privileges.

Chappell, of Laurens.—An act to amend an act to prohibit the sale of spirituous, malt or intoxicating liquors within five miles of the town of Ocmulgee, and to provide for the same.

Chappell, of Laurens.—A bill to transfer county of Laurens from the second judicial circuit to the Ocmulgee judicial circuit.

Chappell, of Laurens.—A bill to relieve Captain J. S. Stiles, of the Dublin Light Infantry, and his bondsmen, in the matter of the destruction of the national archives, which occurred in Dublin, February 26th, last.

THE GOVERNOR WAS READY.

Mr. Martin, of Fulton, chairman of the committee to wait upon the governor and notify him of his election, here reported in behalf of the committee that its duty had been performed, and stated that Governor-elect W. J. Northen expressed a readiness to be inaugurated Saturday 12 o'clock, and provided such a time suited the pleasure of the committee.

Mr. Gilbert, of Muscogee, introduced two important bills:

To incorporate the North Highland Railroad Company, and the other

To promote secrecy of the ballot, to provide for election booths and ballots at public expense, and to enforce uniformity of the same in all public elections. This will be recognized in principle as the Australian ballot system, and this attempt to introduce it in Georgia makes the bill, and its author, conspicuous alike.

Mr. Graves, of Newton.—A bill amending an act to require the clerk of superior court of each county to procure and keep a duplex index of the written instruments recorded in his county.

Mr. Branch, of Polk.—A bill to create and organize a new judicial circuit of the superior courts of the state. The bill provides that the circuit shall embrace the counties of Polk, Paulding and Haralson, and shall be known as the "Tallapoosa circuit."

Mr. Boileau, of Bibb, moved a resolution that, until the house adopts new rules, it meet at 10 o'clock and adjourn at 1 o'clock, which motion passed and so as to make 9 o'clock the hour for meeting.

OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED.

Mr. Branch, of Polk, chairman of the committee on conference with the committee from the senate to ascertain what officers were to be elected, reported the following vacancies:

A United States senator, an associate justice of the supreme court, judges for the Augusta circuit, the Ocmulgee circuit, Brunswick circuit, Flint circuit, Macon circuit, middle circuit, Panama circuit, Route circuit, southern circuit, northeastern circuit and northwestern circuit.

Solicitors will be elected for the Ocmulgee and Northeastern circuits.

BILLS AGAIN.

The reading of bills was resumed as follows:

Mr. Humphries, of Brooks.—To carry into effect the last amendment to article 1, section 1, paragraph 1 of the constitution of 1877 of the state of Georgia, so as to include widows of Confederate soldiers in the aid therein extended.

Mr. Curges, of Rabun.—A bill to incorporate the North Georgia Railway Company.

Mr. Crowder, of Monroe.—An act to allow pensions to certain Confederate widows, married at the time of the war, and whose husbands died in the war or from wounds received there.

Mr. Maxwell, of Talbot.—To incorporate the People's Bank of Talbot, Ga., and for other purposes connected therewith.

Mr. Maxwell, of Talbot.—To regulate the sale of spirituous, vinous and malt liquors in this state, to fix a penalty for violating the same and for other purposes. The bill makes the penalty for violators the same as that of retail dealers.

Mr. Maxwell, of Talbot.—To incorporate the Talbot Loan and Investment Company, of Talbot, to define its powers and privileges, and to provide for the same.

Mr. Gilbert, of Muscogee.—To amend and alter section 4310 of the code.

Mr. Paynter, of Upson.—To establish a system of public schools for the county of Upson, to provide for the maintenance and government of the same; to require the school commissioners to pay over to Upson county school superintendent said county's pro rata share of state school funds, etc.

Mr. Wheeler, of Wilkes.—An act to divide jurisdiction to the United States of certain lands therein situated in the Cheamunga and Chattahoochee national parks.

the public schools of Macon.

Professor W. C. C. is superintendent of the public schools of Columbus.

The Youngest Senator.

The youngest member of the present senate, and one of the most popular members of that body, is Hon. E. H. Callaway, of the seventh.

He was twenty-eight years old last July. He was a Cleveland elector from Georgia two years since.

A Long Time Clerk.

One of the most familiar figures in Georgia legislative bodies for nearly half a century has been Colonel Troup Taylor, the present recording clerk of the senate.

His first clerical position in the legislature was in 1853, at the old capital.

He has been in this position almost continuously every since, filling in the balance of the while as recording clerk of the Confederate senate.

Of the most pleasant incidents in that long and eventful career, and one that he recalls nowadays with pardonable pride, was a gift of $150 from a Georgia senate before the war, with a note of thanks, for the excellence of his work.

He knows more public men, perhaps, than any other man in the state; and has hosts of old friends and new ones throughout the state.

Judge Jenkins.

In the list of judgeships to be filled The Constitution yesterday omitted that in the Ocmulgee circuit.

It was probably overlooked because there is no contest whatever, and Judge William F. Jenkins has given such general satisfaction in his circuit that his election was entirely a matter of course.

He has no opposition for re-election.

Captain W. G. Barrett, of Wilkes county, one of the most prominent citizens, is assistant recorder of the penitentiary, and is mingling with his friends about the capital.

The captain was a member of the "Bloody Seventh" Georgia regiment, during the late part of the war he held a prominent position in the "camp of instruction." Since the war he has been a successful farmer and useful citizen in his county, and his candidacy is being urged by many friends.

REVENUE AGENT CHAPMAN'S REPORT.

Alabama's Record for October Is Worse Than Georgia's.

The report of Revenue Agent Chapman for the month of October shows that the distilleries have been seized in Georgia and 15 in Alabama; there were made 26 seizures of spirits in Georgia and 603 in Alabama for violations of the revenue laws; 57 fermenting tubs were confiscated in Georgia and 149 in Alabama; 5,312 gallons of beer were seized in Alabama and 7,500 in Georgia; 99 gallons of whiskey were seized in Georgia and 5 in Alabama; 16 bushels of meal were seized in Georgia and 29 in Alabama; 7 arrests on the spot were made in Georgia and 5 in Alabama.

October 20th, Hiram Ballow was caught at his distillery in Cleburne, and arrested by Deputy Collectors Colquhoun, Green and Briggs.

Deputy Marshal Draper. When a few hundred yards away from the scene of the arrest, John Ballow, a brother of Hiram, arose rifle in hand from behind a rock and demanded the prisoner's release. Marshal Draper immediately rushed forward and grappled with him, the others pulling their revolvers, and his arrest was effected. He was taken before Commissioner Green, at Gadsden, who, in default of bail, committed him to jail for trial.

NORTHERN TOURISTS.

A Party of Them Will Arrive in the City Today.

A dispatch from Washington announces that Messrs. McClure and McLaughlin, of the Philadelphia Times, Collector Cooper, of the Baltimore American, and a party of other gentlemen left Washington yesterday noon for a journey through the south.

They will be in Atlanta today and after spending a short time in the city will go thence to Montgomery, arriving there Sunday evening.

On Monday, which is "Prose Day" at the Montgomery exposition, Colonel McClure will deliver an address.

Tuesday, the party will go to Mobile and thence through New Orleans to the Gulf coast. From New Orleans they will return, passing through the leading industrial centers of the south, including Birmingham and Chattanooga.

New Cemetery.—A company has been formed to establish a new cemetery, to be called Hollywood, out on the Chattahoochee river. Following are the officers: President, Thomas Moore; treasurer, C. J. Simmons; secretary, A. A. Baker; directors, John W. Nelson, John Colvin, R. S. Wynn, H. D. Smith and J. T. Green.

Messrs. Moore, Simmons and Baker are preparing to build and equip a railroad from Atlanta to the cemetery, thence to the Chattahoochee river and back to Atlanta.

The Federal Court.

In the federal court yesterday, Alfred Orton was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and a fine of $100, for working and distilling blockade whiskey. Jesse Chester, Jr., of Laurens county, was given six months and fined $100 for illicit distilling. J. W. Kinney, for illicit distilling, was given eight months and fined $100. Thomas A. Hood pleaded guilty to the charge of working a blockade still, and was sentenced to two months' imprisonment. All other cases before the court were discharged.

A Sad Death.

Yesterday afternoon the little six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Harris died of fever after an illness of two weeks, at their residence, No. 8 Walker street. She was a bright little baby girl, and the many friends of the family sympathize with them, most sincerely in their sorrow. The funeral occurs at the residence at 9:30 o'clock this morning, and the remains will be buried in Oakland.

The Children's Chorus.

There will be another rehearsal of the "Children's chorus" this (Saturday) afternoon at 3 o'clock in the lecture room of Trinity church. Children from all the Sunday schools are cordially invited to meet Miss Gordon.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. of Atlanta are requested to meet at Trinity church at 10 o'clock Saturday, the 8th instant, to attend in a body the call meeting of the president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. B. F. Abbott, Chairman Committee.

Have you seen the box overcoats we have in our corner window, with strap seams, stitched edges, cut full back, and made of finest qualities Meltons and Kerseys? They are the acme of stylish garments. From the modest $15 to the more pretentious $30 coat, they represent sterling value throughout.

WANT A PRIMARY.

THE 1890 CLUB HOLDS A LONG MEETING.

And Adopts a Resolution Asking the City Executive Committee to Order a Primary—Mr. Brown's Friends.

The municipal campaign is growing warm. The candidates for mayor are becoming quite active.

So are the candidates for aldermen and councilmen.

Then the friends and supporters of the gentlemen who are in the field are working enthusiastically for their favorites.

Several interesting features of the campaign were presented yesterday.

One of the most interesting was a meeting of the 1890 Club.

That club met last night at Mr. Armon Murphy's office, on Alabama street, with a house full.

BETTERMENTS CLAIM.

VICE PRESIDENT STAHLMAN TELLS ABOUT THE QUESTION.

He States the Status of the Claim, and Speaks of the Outlook From the Lessees' Standpoint.

"No politics—no politics," said Vice President Stahlman last night when questioned about the significance of his business.

"No," he continued, "my visit here has no political significance. I believe in home rule, and neither myself nor the people I represent have any disposition to interfere with matters which concern only the people of Georgia. I am here only to look after the interests of the Louisville and Nashville."

"What is the status of the claim of the lessees of the Western and Atlantic?"

"Undisputed, as the last general assembly left it."

"What is the amount of the claim?"

"The amount of the claim, including taxes, has been put at about $875,000, but it is not so much now; the excess rolling stock, amounting to $330,000 which the lessees will retain, reduces the claim to about $545,000."

"In what shape will this matter be presented to the present general assembly?"

"That I cannot answer. The general assembly understands that the matter has not been adjusted and will undoubtedly proceed in its own way to provide means for its settlement."

"What do you think of the sentiment of the present legislature as compared with the last?"

"Well, decidedly more liberal," said the major, after a moment's pause. "The sentiment of the people throughout the state has undergone a marked change during the past twelve months, and I do not doubt but what the general assembly will voice that sentiment when the question is taken up for consideration."

"Don't you think that the lease of the Western and Atlantic by the Louisville and Nashville system has induced some to believe that it carried with it a settlement of the claim?"

"How can this be? There are other stockholders in the lease besides the Louisville and Nashville whose right to a settlement of the Louisville and Nashville Company had no power to ignore. Not the Louisville and Nashville had no power to make a settlement if it would, and ought not to have been expected to do so if it could. The money paid for the improvements put upon the road as well as the taxes paid in Tennessee, was taken out of the treasury of the lessees and belonged to all the stockholders in the old lease, and it was the money invested in these improvements which enabled the state to get the large rental for the road, more than it was actually worth."

"And you think the road was rented for more than it was worth?"

"I do, more than it was intrinsically worth to the Louisville and Nashville system, and at least $15,000 per month more than it would have been worth to any other system if the Louisville and Nashville railroad had seen fit to withdraw its support from the road. You see, our company has furnished the Western and Atlantic 77 per cent of its through traffic. Take this away and the road would have been ruined. It is only because we had an interest in the old lease that we gave this vast business to the state road. If we had withdrawn it, or given it to the East Tennessee line, the state's property would have been practically ruined."

"But the West Point Terminal proposed to give as much as you company?"

"Very true; but that was upon the assumption that the Louisville and Nashville company would continue to support it; it could not have been upon any other unless they expected to advance rates, and I have no idea they contemplated anything of the sort. Mr. Norton hesitated a long time about leasing the road, because he believed that the price fixed was too high, and feared that it might in some way jeopardize the claims of the lessees against the state, but after earnest entreaties from leading officials connected with the Louisville and Nashville system, including Vice President M. H. Smith, President Thomas, of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, and myself, and assurances from a large number of leading citizens of Georgia, that a lease by the Louisville and Nashville system would improve the condition of the claim, he consented that a bid should be made. You remember Mr. Norton in his letter of June 19th said: 'I quite agree that the terms of the lease are very onerous, in addition to which there are several matters which cause me to decline to entertain any proposition to bid; not the least of which was the unsettled condition of the claim of the present lessees against the state, in which the Louisville and Nashville and Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Companies have an interest. Upon mature reflection and after a conference with thoughtful friends, I have concluded that this ought no longer to deter me. In other words, I am persuaded that the people of Georgia would more readily consent to a fair adjustment of the claim if either the company I represent should lease the road, than if the road was leased by another.' This expresses the true state of feelings entertained by Mr. Norton, and those who urged him to make the bid, including, as before stated, a number of prominent citizens of Georgia, some of whom had signed the claim during the session of the last general assembly."

"You believe, then, that the prospects of a settlement are looking bright?"

"I certainly do," said Major Stahlman. "In fact, I have but little doubt on the subject. I have seen enough of Georgia and her people to satisfy me that the question is well understood now, and that the general assembly will meet it in a spirit of fairness, and that an amicable settlement will follow."

"It is said that as soon as you take possession of the road, solid through vestibule trains will be run from Atlanta to Louisville and Cincinnati."

"That is what we contemplate doing, although I am not prepared to speak intelligently as to details of management. Upon one point, however, the people of Georgia may feel assured. The same progressive and liberal spirit which has characterized the management of the Louisville and Nashville system into Georgia, and the people of this state will soon realize that they are not to be hurt by having us with them."

Mr. Stahlman left for his home in Nashville last night.

That Little Tickling
In your throat, which makes you cough once in a while and keeps you constantly clearing your throat, arises from catarrh, and as catarrh is a constitutional disease the ordinary cough medicines all fail to hit the spot. What you need is a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Many people who have taken this medicine for scrofula, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and other troubles, have been surprised that it should cure such a troublesome cough. But to know the actual cause of the cough is to solve the mystery. Many cases of consumption can be traced back to the neglect of some such slight affection as this. Consumption can be controlled in its early stages, and the effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla in purifying the blood, building up the general health, and expelling the scrofulous taint which is the cause of catarrh and consumption, has restored to perfect health many persons on whom this dreaded disease seemed to have a firm hold.

THE CHRYSANTHEMUMS

Were Viewed by a Great Throng of People Yesterday.

The chrysanthemums were all there yesterday. And so were the people, a never-ending throng of whom passed in and out of the capitol rotunda all day long. The majority of the visitors were ladies, and it was truly refreshing to witness their intense earnestness in the examination and discussion of the plant which at present reigns supreme in the kingdom of flowers.

The committee on awards were as follows: Dr. H. H. Cary, chairman; Mrs. J. C. McMillan, Mrs. D. Carpenter and Mrs. R. H. Huxza, secretary. They examined the various exhibits with great care, and found them exceedingly beautiful and of great merit. They made, according to the best judgment, the following awards, which will be known by the blue ribbon attached:

D. B. Woodruff, Macon, Ga.—Finest standard chrysanthemum.

Julius Martin, "Little Switzerland"—Chrysanthemums with the largest number of blossoms.

Ed Wachendorf—Finest collection of roses.

Mrs. A. E. Boynton—Finest collection of palms, dracaenas, crotons and other decorative plants.

Mrs. A. Lambert—Elegant warden case of window plants.

J. E. Jackson, Gainesville, Ga.—A large collection of cut chrysanthemums.

James Burpitt—Elegant ferns.

By general consent the blue ribbon was voted to Mrs. Underwood, to whose striking energy the success of the exhibition is due.

The committee beg leave to express their heartfelt thanks to Messrs. William A. Clayton, of the Southern Express Company, and Clark, of Macon, Ga., for courtesies extended in forwarding exhibits free of charge; also to the state legislature for their kindness in tendering the use of the rotunda for the exhibit.

JUDGE BLANDFORD OUT.

HE IS NOT A CANDIDATE FOR RE-APPOINTMENT.

This Leaves the Field to Judge Sam
Lumpkin and Judge Richard H.
Clark—The Outlook.

Judge Mark Blandford is not a candidate for re-election.

He makes the announcement in a card addressed to "The General Assembly of Georgia," written yesterday.

That leaves as avowed candidates two well known gentlemen—Judge Samuel Lumpkin, of the Northern circuit, and Judge Richard H. Clark, of the Stone Mountain circuit.

Judge Lumpkin has been looked upon as an active candidate for the position for several months, Judge Clark has been a candidate but a few weeks. Of the qualifications of the two men, nothing but complimentary things could be said. Both are splendid judges.

As to their prospects—it is not telling tales out of school to state that Judge Lumpkin has, in the parlance of the race course, the inside track, and his victory is practically assured.

A warm advocate of Judge Lumpkin's candidacy said yesterday that there is no possible doubt of Judge Lumpkin's election. "It is as certain as anything can be," he said, in talking of the situation. "I never have seen a victory more clearly assured."

And that seems to be the sentiment prevailing on all sides. Judge Blandford's withdrawal is regarded by Judge Lumpkin's friends as settling the matter.

JUDGE BLANDFORD'S CARD.
SUPERIOR COURT OF GEORGIA, ATLANTA, GA.,
November 7, 1890.—To the General Assembly of Georgia: I take this method of announcing that I am not a candidate for re-election to the office of associate justice of the supreme court. The duties of the office I now hold are such as to afford me no time to canvass for re-election, if I desired to do so. I cannot consent to interview the members of your body individually. Hoping you may elect one to this position much more able and competent to perform the arduous duties of the office than myself, and with my best wishes for yourselves and the prosperity of our state, I remain, your obedient servant.

M. H. BLANDFORD.
Judge Blandford has occupied a position on the supreme bench, having been elected to succeed Judge Crawford. He was elected from Columbus, which is his home, and he will resume the practice of law when his term expires.

In 1844 he began his career as a lawyer, at that time being admitted to the bar at Hamilton, Ga. When the war began he enlisted, and he was as gallant a soldier as ever wore the gray. At McDowell, Va., in 1862, he lost an arm, but as soon as possible—just as soon as his condition would permit—he returned to active service. Later he was made colonel of his regiment. In 1863 he was elected to the confederate congress, and in 1864 entered upon his term of service in that body, continuing there until the close of the war.

Then he went to Columbus and resumed the practice of law, and that, too, with signal success. His ability as an advocate and upon the bench and his staunch democracy have ever been fully recognized.

Florida Travelers, Take Notice.
The same perfect schedules that were used by the E. T. V. & G. R. R. during the past winter and spring to Florida points and return are now in effect. The train leaving at 6 o'clock p. m. carries Pullman sleepers to Jacksonville without change, arriving the following morning in time to connect with all outgoing trains for the interior. The morning train leaving at 6:25 o'clock a. m. also makes perfect connections all the way through.

CALMING A STORM.
An Austrian inventor has designed a shell containing oil to be fired by ships in stormy weather with a view to calming the billows ahead of them. It consists of a wooden cylinder, about a foot and a half in length, containing about two-thirds of a pound of oil, and lined inside with shellac to prevent the oil penetrating the wood, a single shell is capable of calming a space of more than 1,000 square yards. This is all very well for calming a storm at sea, but it requires something more than oil at home to quell a storm. It has been found repeatedly in cases of domestic trouble that a diamond ring or a pair of diamond earrings from J. P. Stevens & Bro., Jewelers, will produce more peace and comfort at home than any other agent that can be possibly employed.

This delightful state of affairs has been brought about in so many instances that J. P. Stevens & Bro., are having an immense sale of diamonds this season. A member of the firm states that during a business of nearly twenty years in Atlanta, they have never sold so many diamonds as they have during the past few months.

DON'T GIVE UP

The use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. One bottle may not cure "right off" a complaint of years; persist until a cure is effected. As a general rule, improvement follows shortly after beginning the use of this medicine.
With many people, the effect is immediately noticeable; but some constitutions are less susceptible to medicinal influences than others, and the curative process may, therefore, in such cases, be less prompt. Perseverance in using this remedy is sure of its reward at last. Sooner or later, the most stubborn blood diseases yield to

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For several years, in the spring months,
I used to be troubled with a drowsy, tired feeling, and a dull pain in the small of my back, so bad, at times, as to prevent my being able to walk, the least sudden motion causing me severe distress. Frequently, boils and rashes would break out on various parts of the body. By the advice of friends and my family physician, I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and continued it till the poison in my blood was thoroughly eradicated."
—L. W. English, Montgomery City, Mo.
"My system was all run down; my skin rough and of yellowish hue. I tried various remedies, and while some of them gave me temporary relief, none of them did any permanent good. I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, continuing it exclusivly for a considerable time, and am pleased to say that it completely

Cured Me.

I presume my liver was very much out of order, and the blood impure in consequence.
I feel that I cannot too highly commend Ayer's Sarsaparilla to any one afflicted as I was.—Mrs. N. A. Smith, Glover, Vt.
"For years I suffered from scurvy and blood diseases. The doctor prescribed and several so-called blood-purifiers being of no avail, I was at last advised by a friend to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I did so, and now feel like a new man, being fully restored to health."—C. N. Frink, Decorah, Iowa.
